ABSTRACT

5       An optical receiver comprises a dispersion compensator having variable amount of dispersion compensation to compensate chromatic dispersion of a signal light input from an optical transmission line, a selfcorrelator to operate selfcorrelation of a signal light output from the dispersion 10       compensator, and a controller to control the dispersion compensator to make the selfcorrelation of the optical selfcorrelator larger.
